

WORK SMARTER, NOT HARDER

Streamline your workday with a conversational AI assistant

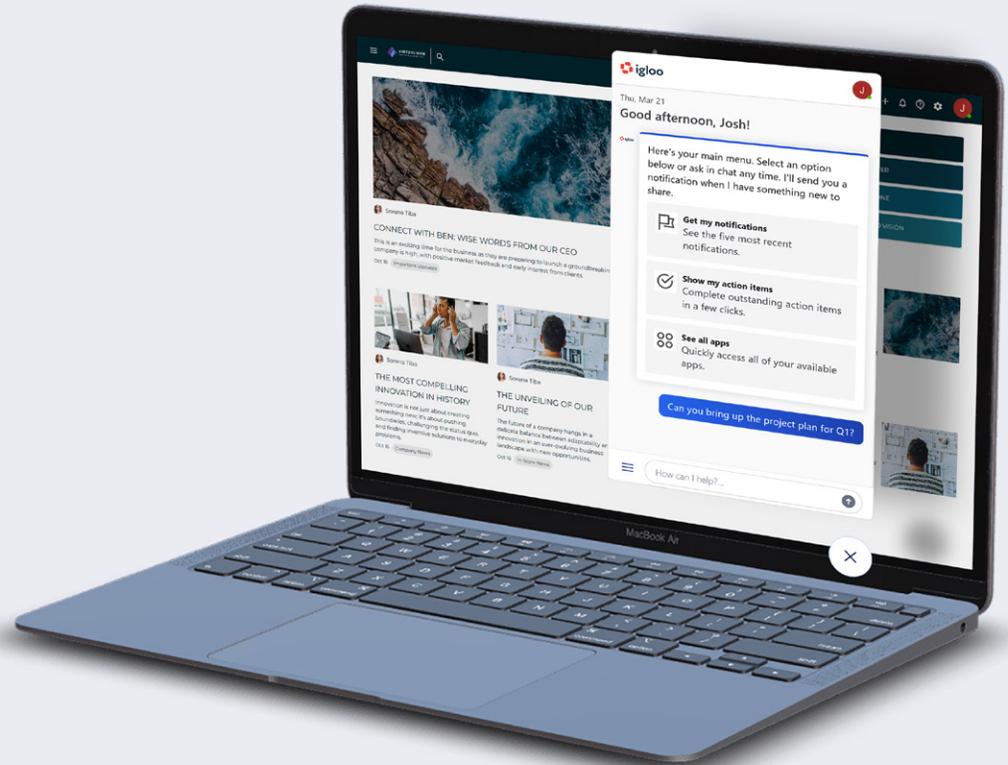

The Igloo Digital Assistant takes the efficiency and productivity benefits of your Igloo intranet further than you thought possible. By giving every employee their own AI-powered digital assistant, your workforce can spend more time on the work that matters while their digital counterpart streamlines and automates the rest.

Everything you need, all in one place

The Igloo Digital Assistant eliminates the time every employee wastes on bouncing between apps, searching for information, managing notifications, and completing routine tasks. Your chat-based AI responds in a natural, conversational manner, offering instant access to information across multiple systems in a few clicks.

How it works

The Igloo Digital Assistant takes the massive amount of knowledge, policies, updates, tasks, and users from across your intranet and external business apps, and consolidates it all into an AI-powered chat interface that's always ready to answer questions, serve information, and help get work done faster. This lets employees focus on what matters now instead of sifting through endless streams of digital content scattered across numerous applications.
